Sleepless Nights

"For nearly a month I was not able to sleep, but after using Paine's Celery Compound for two days, I was able to sleep and strength returned."

E. G. SMITH,
Clausen, S. C.

"I have taken only a part of a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and it has entirely relieved me of sleeplessness, from which I have suffered greatly."

MRS. E. ADAMS, Peoria, Ill.

"For a long time I was so nervous and worn out that I could not work. I tried many medicines, but none gave me relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound, which at once strengthened and invigorated my nerves."

HARVEY SUGGARD, Burlington, Vt.

Paine's Celery Compound

quickly quiet and strengthens the nerves, when irritated or weakened by overwork, excess, disease, or shock. It cures nervousness, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, melancholia, and other disorders of the nervous system.

Tones up the Shattered Nerves

"For two years I was a sufferer from nervous debility, and I thank God and the discoverer of the valuable remedy, that Paine's Celery Compound cured me. Let any one write to me for advice."

GEORGE W. BOUTON, Stamford, Conn.

Paine's Celery Compound produces sound and refreshing sleep. A physician's prescription. It does not contain one harmful drug. Like nothing else, it is a guaranteed cure for sleeplessness. It directions are faithfully followed. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists.

BATHS FOR BELLES.

Luxurious Appointments That Rival Those of the Fabred East.

The luxurious habits of New York women, says the Times, of that city, have grown nearly to rival the stories told of Poppaea, who had bushels of fresh rose leaves picked every night to sleep on, and who took a daily morning bath of asses' milk to keep her skin soft and satiny. This is not quite the form that luxury takes here, but the amount of time and labor spent in the care of the person and the preservation of beauty is something calculated to amaze the people who give it no attention. The maid has ceased to be sufficient attendance, her time being more or less absorbed by the toilet and cognate matters, so the present plan is to engage the services of a woman who goes out by the day or hour, and whose cards read: "Ladies' Toilets." She has entire charge of the persons of her customers, and it is her duty to see that they are kept beautiful. Once or twice a week she rubs, combs, brushes, clips and cleans their hair, undertaking to keep it soft, sleek and thick. She manicures the nails, and uses and recommends such unguents as are warranted to keep the hands soft and white. She is a pedicure as well, and keeps her customers' feet in as perfect condition as their hands. She has a thousand different devices for beautifying the face and undertakes to ward off wrinkles by her rubbings and emollients. She trains eye-brows in the way they should go, removes superfluous hair, induces eyelashes to thicken and lengthen; keeps the skin smooth, fresh, and fair, and declares she can make the lips keep their bloom without the use of rouge. She looks after the figure, too, having a system called the "Swedish movement," by which she tightens up flaccid muscles, rounds thin throats and lean arms, and removes any of the disfigurements of outline that have resulted from tight lacing and the abnormal tendency of flesh to any one part of the body. She reduces flesh, too, and undertakes to develop symmetry. Her principal occupation, however, and the one best relished by her luxurious employers, is the massage bath. The tub is filled with warm water, quite as hot as can be comfortably borne, and into this is thrown a bath bag, consisting of a little sack of cotton-wool, and underlaid with almond meal, powdered rose root, and grated soap. The water turns soft and milky as the contents of the bag dissolve, and the skin is rubbed with the bag, which makes a smooth, violet perfumed lather and leaves the flesh as soft as a child's. The bath is rubbed dry and rolled in a big sheet of Turkish toweling, and then every inch of the body is carefully rubbed, kneaded and pinched with hands moistened in violet water, which impregnates the skin with a faint, flower-like perfume. This takes the place of exercise in a great measure, and women who are too indolent or too busy to walk or practice in a gymnasium find this keeps the skin in equally good condition and is a more luxurious method of setting the blood to circulating. Another fancy of these dainty women is to sleep in silk. They have long abjured any other wear for underclothes, and now there are beings whose in the sheets that cater to all the warm whims of the sex sets of silk sheets and pillowcases in all colors. With these go the beautiful East Indian blankets, woven entirely of raw silk, and down spreads covered with surah or satin. These sheets and pillowcases are hemstitched with a crest or monogram embroidered in one corner. Some of them have a delicate vine embroidered along the edge or a broad band of Aran work. They are of all delicate colors and white and black. Mrs. George Gould, who has a passion for violets, has several sets of these silken bed furnishings of pale lilac, with wreaths of Parma violets embroidered all around them. The Hindoo blanket is a deeper purple and the violet colored down spread is perfumed with sachets of violet powder.

MARRIAGE A SUCCESS.

An Old Soldier Proves That Women Have No Cause for Complaint.

Walking along Lake Shore, writes a Chicago Journal reporter, with an old soldier, who had married three times, and for money every time, I had some new and valuable light shed upon the question, "Is marriage a failure?" The warrior takes an easy view of life. He is inclined to think that women are not as bad as they are painted, but that they require strong handling. "The marriage laws are much too easy on women. Now look here! I'm a man of family—I mean social position. I have an income of between $2,500 and $3,000. 'Tisn't much, but as Shakespeare says, "'tis mine own." I married a widow for my first wife. She had $5,000 a year of her own, and no social position, as her first husband was a saloon-keeper. I got her into refined and fashionable society. How did she repay me, think you? Well, she insisted upon spending all her own coin upon herself, and then demanding half of my little income. Wasn't that pretty cheeky? She paid me nothing for my social position. She got every thing and gave nothing—save the $5,000 a year when she died to a twenty-second cousin near Prince Bismarck's home in Pomerania. My second wife was in her second widowhood, but not a bit softer about money matters than when she was a maid-in-fair. Every thing settled upon herself. I paid for the wedding breakfast. She had a large income and she never gave me a cigar. She went to Heaven and left her money to a sister. The sister wouldn't marry me, but I got a nice little woman, with four children, who had buried three husbands and was as merry as a butterfly. She is alive now and is the hardest nut of all. She doesn't take half my money—she takes the whole of it; pays my bills, and allows me half a dollar a day for spending money. No, sir; marriage was no failure—for the three women who had the good fortune to marry me."

A Judge's Keen Retort.

One of the keenest things ever said on the bench is attributed to Judge Walton, of Georgia. While holding a term of the Supreme Court at Augusta, he sentenced a man to seven years in prison for a grave crime. The prisoner's counsel asked for a mitigation of the sentence on the ground that the man's health was very poor. "Your honor," said he, "I am satisfied that my client can not live out half that term; and I beg you to change the sentence." "Well, under those circumstances," said the judge, "I will change the sentence. I will make it for life, instead of seven years." The prisoner chose to abide by the original sentence, which the judge permitted him to elect.

The recent death of a New York green glass-blower illustrates the dangers of that unhealthy but remunerative vocation.

A good green glass-blower can easily command twenty-five dollars a week, but for all that very few stick to the trade long when they can possibly find other work. It is said that no one follows the pursuit for over ten years without seriously, if not fatally, injuring his health.

The German Expectation.

The Salt Lake Tribune prints it in this wise: It is rather cool to read that the Berlin Tageblatt considers President Harrison's inaugural "shows an arrogant spirit and does not display particularly friendly feelings towards other powers." Singularly enough, this is precisely the complaint Americans have to make concerning Germany's course in Samoa. That course has been arrogance exemplified perfectly in act, and has displayed an utter contempt for American rights and interests in those islands. To have this same complaint come now from Germany towards the declaration of an American President exhibits an unconscious irony that shows how utterly selfish and sordid the ruling spirit in Germany is when its interest or desire clash with the rights of others. No less remarkable is that other Berlin journal's expression—the Vossische Zeitung—where it suggests that Germany has been hoping for a more yielding spirit towards Germany's pretensions from the Harrison Administration than they have had from Cleveland's. On what ground even the wildest egotist could hope for greater complacency toward German aggression in this business than Secretary Bayard has shown it would be hard to imagine. The exact contrary is the hope that has been animating the American breast; we have been longing for the day when Mr. Bayard should retire and give place to a man who would not suffer the American name and prestige to be dragged in the dust and made the scoff and contempt of Germany or any other nation's reckless and bullying jingoism. That further concessions should have been expected in Germany from the United States shows either that a ridiculous bluff is undertaken, or else the existence of a depth of insensitivity of self-love and vanity which is all but incomprehensible. It also shows that degradation the American name has been allowed to drop during four years of contemptible mismanagement of our foreign affairs. Enough Americans were disgusted with it to account for the change in administration, and they want that change to be given effect just there; further, they haven't a doubt that right in that spot the change will be the most immediate and the most abrupt.

ASSEMBLY Bill No. 38, to prevent trespass upon real estate by live stock, which passed the Legislature and now awaits the signature of the Governor to become a law, strikes us as a bad bill; it certainly will cripple the sheep industry in this State to a very great extent, for it is clearly class legislation, and will be very apt to cut off the revenue from the State at a time when we can ill afford to spare it. While it will keep sheep off from another man's land it makes no provision whatever for keeping other kinds of stock off the sheep man's possessions. While it is true that cattle and horses do not destroy the feed that sheep do, and are licensed to roam at large while sheep are constantly under hand, it seems but just that the same protection should be accorded to the sheep man that is granted to men engaged in raising cattle or horses.

THE Governor's special message to the Assembly, on that body's failure to consider the revenue bill that passed the Senate, is published in another column. While we doubt the prerogative of the Governor to take to task a body of men chosen by the people to represent them in the Legislature, we cannot but admire his pluck. The revenue bill was very carefully considered by a joint committee and acted upon by the Senate, which body it passed without a dissenting vote, and then for the Assembly to ignore it completely, not even reading the bill, shows that body to be at least very discourteous to the Senate. The bill was a good one and should have passed, but its length prevented the Assembly from giving the subject that consideration which it demanded. After idling away nearly sixty days, the least the Assembly could have done would have been to listen to its reading.

Trouble Between the Union and Northern Pacific.

DEATH OF A CONGRESSMAN.

What Powderly Says of a London "Times" Witness.

Exciting Rumors.

(Special to the GAZETTE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—S. P. M.—The Secretary of the Navy telegraphed the Union Iron Works this afternoon, inquiring how soon the cruiser Charleston could be gotten ready for service. In consequence of this telegram all manner of rumors have been afloat this afternoon regarding Samoa, to the effect that the reported sinking of the Nipsic has been confirmed, and that one of the Oceanic Steamship Company's steamers has been seized near Samoa by a German gunboat. The latest press advices fail to confirm the sinking of the Nipsic. Any late news will be bulletined to 6 P. M.

Another of the "Times" Witnesses.

SCRANTON, Penn., March 9.—Powderly's attention was called to a cablegram, saying LeCaron had denied the authenticity of a letter to Powderly proposing to blow up the bridges and culverts on the Missouri Pacific during the strike. Powderly showed a correspondent the original letter, dated April 3d, 1886, and it has all the marks of genuineness. LeCaron was an unknown man then, and it is not probable that anyone would forge his letter. Powderly continued: "Since this letter of LeCaron's was first published, I have received communications from men along the line of the Missouri Pacific who say they believe they will bring LeCaron back to America in hand cuffs." Powderly intimated that evidence will soon be at hand which will prove that LeCaron's secret record is stained by a much greater crime than that of being a spy, and in all probability, a perjurer.

A Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—There were not so many people at the White House this morning, but the politicians turned out in full force, and were received in the President's office, and occupied his attention from 9:30 to 12:30, when the President excused himself for the purpose of consulting with the Cabinet on matters requiring prompt attention. The session lasted two hours. All members were present. Among those who saw the president during the forenoon, were Senator Dolph and Delegate Dubois with an Idaho delegation.

Whaler's Refuge.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The New England whalers are urging the speedy establishment of the proposed home of refuge at Point Barrow, Alaska. The building projected is under the direction of the Revenue Marine Service, and probably Captain White, now on detached service at Oakland, Cal., will be detailed to do the work, with the advice of Captain Healy of the steamer Bear. The amount appropriated for the building is $15,000, which will be devoted to the structure, provisions and fuel, which will be sent from San Francisco.

A Theatre Humper.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 9.—The Samson row played a conspicuous part in the performance in the Academy of Music last night. At one period of the performance was a song of all nations, the singer waving appropriate flags. The national airs of Ireland, England, France and Italy were sung amid applause, but when the German flag was brought out and the singing of "Die wacht den Rhein," there began loud hissing and a great tumult, which resulted in a fight and the arrest of two persons in the audience.

A Bluff Game.

HELENA, Mont., March 9.—The display of force made by the Union Pacific Company in Boulder Canon, the Company having over 500 men on the ground, armed with winchesters, has had the effect of bluffing the Northern Pacific, which yesterday left the Union Pacific in control of the pass.

Heavy Floods in England.

LONDON, March 9.—Floods prevail in Western England. Railway traffic is interrupted, and passengers on some trains are compelled to sleep in the cars. Taunton is completely isolated. The water is slowly subsiding. The floods are the greatest during the present generation.

Business Failure.

LOUISVILLE, March 9.—John L. Macaulay, owner of the Macaulay Theatre, has made a deed trust of all his property for the benefit of his creditors. It is believed all his debts will be paid in full.

Nothing From Samoa.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—There is still a dearth of news from Samoa, in the State and Navy Departments.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—In the State Department, the fact that they have not been officially advised of the blowing up of the Nipsic, is regarded as evidence that no such a thing has happened. They have not telegraphed the acting consul, for a reason, as it is not to be supposed that he has neglected his duty and failed to give information of an event of such importance.

In answer to the suggestion that Germans would control every avenue by which news could reach the United States, that they could not prevent information from reaching England through some of the English vessels at Samoa; even supposing the reported engagement had been followed by a declaration of war, which might result in cutting off Consul Blacklock from the cable at Anikland. The naval officers here, without exception, also discredit the story, although they admit that the Nipsic would have been over-matched by the Olga in a sea fight. They are rather inclined to accept the view taken by certain of the English papers, that the publication in the German newspapers was thrown out as a feeler to learn how an attempt to chase Matsuda's forces for the killing of German seamen would be received in Germany and America.

Want Their Money.

PARIS, March 9.—12 M.—Crowds of depositors surround the offices of the Comptoir d'Escompte, awaiting the opportunity to withdraw their funds. The official journal publishes a decree authorizing the return of Duke d'Aumale to France.

Roll of Honor in Music.

ROLL OF HONOR—Minnie Rule, Maud Wells, Ruth Russell, Nettie Aush, Oline Johnson, Otis Longabaugh, Mary Hopkins, Charlotte Dorwin, Etta Sims, Ivy Evans, Lida Ferguson, Gertrude Hillman, Iva Rowland, Oella Sherman, Edna Bailey, May Wilson, Lillian Godfrey, Stella Prosser.

Narrowly Escaped Lynching.

MILWAUKEE, March 9.—There was a wild scene on Market Square this morning when the Chinamen Sam Yip Go and Hah Ding were taken to jail from the Municipal Court, where they were to have been examined on the charge of enticing little girls into their dens for immoral purposes. A crowd of a thousand men made angry demonstrations, and only a heavy bodyguard saved them from lynching. Ten children were in Court ready to testify against them, but the case was continued, owing to failure to secure an interpreter.

A Severe Storm.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 9.—The worst storm of the season has been raging for the past ten hours, and promises to be as bad as that of a year ago. The snow is a foot deep and drifting badly.

Another shakeup.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 9.—Farmers coming to market from the northern part of this county report another earthquake at 5 o'clock this morning, but not as violent as that of last evening.

Hanged for Murder.

Go around to George Becker's Granite Saloon tomorrow for a fine glass of beer and a nice hot lunch.

You can get your Sunday dinners at the Depot Hotel for less money than they can be gotten up at home.

Save money by buying your paints, oils, varnishes and brushes at C. Bookin's variety and notion store.

In accordance with his weekly custom, J. J. Becker will set out at his saloon, an extra fine lunch to-morrow.

Landlord Killeen of the Pollard House puts in about sixteen hours a day attending to the wants of his patrons.

All who have ever eaten a meal at the Pioneer Hotel, express surprise that Cooper is able to sell such a meal for 25 cents.

Magazines, story-papers, illustrated papers and all leading San Francisco dailies and weeklies at C. A. Thurston's news depot.

If you will take your meals at the Riverside Hotel you will find it necessary to take two or three cocktails to get up an appetite.

C. Coleman and his artistic assistant, at the Arcade barber shop, will be found ready to "do you up" so your nearest neighbor will hardly know you.

If you want the finest bath you ever had since you crossed the Plains, get into one of John Bell's capacious porcelain tubs. Three chairs in the barber shop and a live man behind each.

There is nothing in the line of fresh or salt meats that cannot be had at John Fraser's Virginia street market. Jack never weighs his hand, consequently you pay for nothing that you don't get.

Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. If your lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Whiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Oregon is one of the most productive States in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron, lead, coal, limestone, granite, and other valuable products. Its agricultural products are of the highest quality and abundance, the yield per acre being in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the West Coast State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by William Finlander.

This is the season of the year when the raw, cold winds create and have with the hands and complexion. Soft, white hands and a clear "peachy" complexion can be securely preserved by the frequent application of Dandelion's Specific. If rubbed into the skin well it leaves no greasy surface. The skin absorbs it. Sold by William Finlander.

The immediate symptoms of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are a distressing sense of weight, oppression and fullness in the stomach, heartburn, loss of appetite, foul breath, belching, flatulency, nausea, pain in the shoulders and breast. Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic promotes healthy digestion and removes all unhealthy symptoms. Sold by William Finlander.

Throat Diseases commence with a Cough, Cold, or Sore Throat. Brown's Throat Lozenges give immediate relief. Sold only in boxes. Price, 25 cents.

THE COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Dr. Dawson Makes the Following Report for the Year.

To the Honorable the Board of Commissioners of Washoe County—GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit for your consideration the following report of the transactions of the County Hospital for the year commencing January 1, 1888, and ending December 31, 1888. The rapidly increasing population of the county and the increased facilities for traveling have produced a corresponding increase in the admissions to the Hospital. Of the large number admitted and cared for it is well known that a majority were not legitimate wards of the county, or even of the State, yet the circumstances were such as to preclude the possibility of refusing permits without incurring the risk of being charged with inhumanity. It is obvious that even with our commodious building the time is not far distant when additions will have to be made to accommodate the rapid increase in the number of patients. The improvements recently made have added materially to the comfort of the patients, and the bathing facilities, so much needed, renders the work of properly caring for these much easier. The wisdom of the Board in securing the services of W. H. Joy as Steward cannot be too highly commended, and it is to be hoped that arrangements may be effected to secure his continued services. Through the efforts of Mr. Joy the value and productiveness of the hospital farm has been materially enhanced. The following tabulated statement showing movement of patients is submitted:

Of the deaths Patrick Reagan came direct from California with consumption, and died in twenty days from the time of his admission. Vase Pierre was run over by the cars and lived five days. Michael O'Keefe, from California, consumption, lived 18 days. Martin Boes, from California, consumption lived but a few days. M. C. Cassin was dying when brought to the hospital. W. H. Bedford was brought to the hospital with his throat cut and died the next day. If we eliminate from the death report the above six cases there remains four cases properly chargeable, making the percentage of deaths in the number treated a trifle over four per cent, a mortality remarkably low. In the improvements in the sanitary condition which now prevail, we can reasonably expect even better results. In conclusion allow me to express my thanks for the liberal aid and courtesy which I have uniformly received at your hands. Respectfully submitted,

A. Dawson, M. D., County Physician.

The Tribune says a stingy Legislature and the small-pox were the causes which produced dull times at the Capitol during the past Winter.

Stuart M. Taylor of California is said to be a candidate for the position of Democratic member of the United States Civil Service Commission.

Constable Upton went to Lovelock this morning to bring back the fellow who recently stole a couple of dozen cashmere shirts from S. M. Jamison's store.

Certain fishermen have informed a GAZETTE reporter that the trout in the Truckee river are not able to pass some of the dams, and they desire the attention of Fish Commissioner Mills called to the matter.

Messrs. Wheeler and Nelson are circulating a petition to-day addressed to the Governor, praying him to veto the trespass law passed this week by the Legislature.

Reno is Proud of the First National Bank.

The statement of the First National Bank in another column must be very gratifying to the managers. They have a capital stock paid up of $200,000, a surplus fund of $70,000 and undivided profits of $9,189.63. They have a line of deposits amounting to $159,255.08, and demand certificates of deposit amounting to $44,407.17. Reno is proud of the First National Bank.

Beautify the Grounds.

Arbor Day will soon be here, and to beautify the grounds at Agricultural Park ought to be the pride of every citizen. The society will have the ground prepared and wells dug, so that every one can take out one or more trees to plant. Elm, locust and balm of gileads are the varieties that the society wants.

Not Guilty.

In the trial of the Laird boys for stealing Dean's calf, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty yesterday. The second trial on the indictment for stealing James Miller's cow has not been set.

A Pest House.

Commissioner Hyman and County Clerk Julian went to Wadsworth this morning to fix up a pest house. There is no smallpox there yet, but the Wadsworth people want to get ready for it.

Stock Shipments.

Twenty cars of beef cattle shipped at Carson to Wagner & Co., San Francisco, arrived this morning and were forwarded by a special train.

This evening George Humphrey will ship two cars to Colfax.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE.

The Governor Sees the Assembly for Not Reading the Revenue Law that Passed the Senate.

STATE OF NEVADA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CARSON CITY, March 7, 1889.

Gentlemen of the Assembly: The time allotted for the discharge of your duties, as our constitution has always been practically construed, is about to expire, and you return, to account for your stewardship, to those who chose you to converse their interests and protect their welfare.

In my second biennial message, communicated at the opening of your session, I deemed it my sworn and imperative duty to call attention to the deplorable condition—the utter inefficiency—of our revenue laws, and to urge the enactment of a new law, whereby to secure uniformity and equality in assessment, and raise the revenue indispensable to carrying on the State Government. I know of no just reason why I should retract one word then written. The necessity is unabated, and the want, through the omission of a majority of your Honorable body, remains unsupplied.

As a time sufficiently anterior to this for the same to have been passed by both branches, ere this day, a bill was introduced in the Senate, which was the result of the labors of a joint committee appointed for the purpose. To say the least, the bill, had it become a law, was a decided improvement upon the incongruous mass of acts, original, amendatory and supplemental, which constituted what are familiarly termed the "Revenue Laws," and if its passage was not demanded and justified by any other consideration, it was by the great benefit to arise from having all law on that subject embraced in one act, instead of sixty odd, running through twenty-four years, and each succeeding Legislative session developing more its defects. This bill passed the Senate on the 2d instant without amendment, and was received by you in the forenoon of Monday, the 4th instant; so it cannot be truthfully said that it had not ample time in which to have read it, at least, as it had passed the Senate—yes, 15; nay, none—and then, if meritorious, to have passed it; if not, to have defeated it. It was not acted upon by you, other than to table it, until in the afternoon of the 5th inst.; and then, without reading, was by you indefinitely postponed.

This was not an indignity to the Senate. I have failed to learn the definition of that word; and it must be apparent to anyone possessing sufficient intelligence to be chosen and honored as a law-maker that, if one co-ordinate branch of the Legislature be seriously or spitefully arrayed against the other, they collectedly must fail in the consideration, just and dignified discharge of the duties imposed upon their harmonious, joint and patriotic action.

I most deeply regret the necessity which calls for this communication, but feel it to be my imperative duty to lay the facts before your respective constituents, that they may rightly judge. I trust you will reflect upon, and not deny before the people, whom we are supposed to serve, the discouraging condition, financially, of the State. It is bad indeed for a State or individual to have to borrow funds to defray current expenses, especially so when there is no prospect of an early income to meet such humiliating liability. Such has been the State's mortifying expedient in order to keep the machinery of the Government oiled and running. But our borrowing limit is almost reached, and our revenue, through a vicious, unjust and unconstitutional system of assessment, is decreasing—not that we have not the property from which to raise all we need. We have it, but do not assess it honestly; and this vicious system, which is growing worse and tending rapidly to ruin, you might have killed and buried, but have countenanced and encouraged. The inevitable result must be that, during the current two fiscal years, our borrowing capacity will be exhausted to run the Government, and when the Legislature shall meet in 1891, there will be little, if any, money in the Treasury to meet the expenses of the session.

I do not change for a moment that this failure on the part of your majority is the result of a desire to injure the State, but believe it to be the result of omission to give to the matter early and close thought and well-directed, prompt action which the exigency demanded. Be that as it may, the result is disastrous to the State, and must stand unreversed and unrepented by your successors. Very respectfully,

C. C. STREVENSON, Governor.

Carson Satisfied.

Carson is satisfied for once, if the following extract from the Tribune is an expression of public sentiment: Ormsby county is pleased with the work of the Legislature. One hundred thousand dollars for a dam to store water on the Carson river, $4,500 for our District Fair, $1,500 for electric lights in the Capitol building, and $10,000 for securing water for the Capitol grounds and Orphans' Home is gratifying legislation to Ormsby.

THE CLOSING PROCEEDINGS.

The last night the Senate closed up its business in short order, but the House remained in session for some hours after dark.

The session in the House was Thompson's anti-gambling speech, and the message from the Governor, raking the House for not passing the bill revising the revenue law.

Thompson spoke on the bill moving the gambling games down on the first floor. He denounced the gamblers as men who were non-producers, who lived off the fat of the land and never did a lick of work. He believed that they should no longer be permitted to fatten off the products of honest toil, but be made to saw wood and dig irrigation ditches.

As he warmed up, his voice quavered with earnestness as he quarreled with the audience, until the latter rolled out the invective, until the audience applauded for several minutes.

Allen, of Churchill rep'd in a humorous speech comparing Thompson's conversion to the snatching of a brand from the burning fire in a camp meeting, and there was a peal of laughter as he sat down. The bill as opposed by Thompson was beaten by a decisive vote.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

On the heels of this came a bombshell from the Governor soring the House of defeating the voluminous Revenue bill which had indefinitely postponed. The message was a regular raker and it made the members a little warm as it was read. A motion not to spread it on the minutes was carried, 27 to 13.

PERSONAL.

Senator Kaiser of Churchill is in town.

P. Halstead, the Quincy stage man, went below last night.

Nevadans in Washington.

There was quite a colony of Nevadans in Washington during the inauguration of President Harrison. Aside from those of our people employed there were the following: Congressmen-elect Bartine, of Carson; H. Thomas Wren, of Eureka; Simeon Wenban and wife, Mrs. Dean, two children and maid, of Cortez, Eureka county; B. V. Doy, of Virginia City; D. W. Perley, of Eastern Nevada; D. A. Bender, of Carson; Charles Stoddard, of Reno, and C. S. Varian, formerly of Reno.

Doubt Brightening into Hope.

And hope into certainty, is the pleasing transition through which the mind of the nervous, dyspeptic invalid passes, who tries a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is as like incomparable and infallible. Increased vitality, a gain in weight, tranquility of the nerves, sound appetite and sleep are among the blessings which it is within the beneficent power of this medicine to confer, and it is not surprising that after securing this new doorway of health the grateful invalid should sometimes utter his praises of the Bitters in terms bordering on extravagance.

"Out of the failures of the heart the mouth speaketh," and the proprietors of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have sometimes been obliged to suppress these eulogiums lest they should be accused of blowing their own trumpet too loudly. For constipation, biliousness, kidney complaint and incipient rheumatism, the Bitters is also a deservedly popular remedy.

Must be In With Them.

Governor Zulfick of Arizona, vetoed a bill passed by the Legislature authorizing an investigation into the management of the Territorial Prison and University.

THE EARLY CLOSING LAW.

A Bill Requiring all Saloons to Close at 12 O'clock Midnight.

The following bill passed both branches of the Legislature, and is now a law:

Sec. 1. On and after the first day of April, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm or corporation engaged in the business of selling any kind or kinds of spirituous or malt liquors by the glass or drink, or engaged in carrying on or conducting any kind or character of gambling or games of chance, to open such a place of business for the sale of such liquors, or for the prosecution of such games, at an earlier hour than six o'clock in the morning of each or any day, and no such person or persons, firm or corporation shall sell or give away any such liquor or continue to allow the continuance of any such games in or about their respective places of business after the hour of 12 o'clock A. M. of each or any day, and all such places of business, excepting hotels, shall be closed between the hour of midnight and the hour of six o'clock the next morning of each and every day.

Sec. 2. A violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, the offender shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and persons acting as a servant, employee or agent shall be equally liable with their employers and principals.

Sec. 3. Peace officers are hereby especially required to strictly enforce the provisions of this Act, and a failure on the part of such officer to perform such duty shall render him liable to removal from office as prescribed by law.
